Schools a shambles

BY ALICIA BABAEE

alicia.babaee@ mk-news.co.uk

A DAMNING report has highlighted major weaknesses in the council's school build programme.

Milton Keynes Council (MKC) has been accused of common control and governance failures.

It has had to find more than £6 million to rectify problems caused.

The fundamental flaws have been exposed by the council's own audit committee working in conjunction with the Audit Commission.

Last year Giles Brook School in Tattenhoe was forced to close after the ceiling threatened to cave in.

Concerns were originally raised with the council in 2003 but the school did not close until 2006.

A resident contacted the Audit Commission questioning whether problems should have been identified earlier, how the council addressed issues, and how it managed its relationship with schools. The commission then launched the investigation.

The report says: "There is evidence that the problems were identified and known earlier but were, on the whole, not accepted by MKC relying on it's technical advisors.

"It is concerning that evidence indicates that some officers chose to refute (and in some areas continue to refute) the claims from the school which evidence now shows to be largely accurate. This is a matter of serious concern."

The repairs cost £3 million but the school only cost £2.9 million to build.

The report says the issues are indicative of common control failures rather than an isolated issue.

In another case the opening of Ousedale's new Olney campus was delayed by almost nine months and went more than a third over budget. This is subject to an ongoing legal dispute between the council, the contractor and the external firm of architects.

Significant health and safety issues were also ignored at Giles Brook, according to the report.

It adds: "Evidence indicates that a real risk of serious physical harm existed at the school."

Control failures include the tight timescales imposed, inadequate preparation for projects, and the absence of effective management.

The report suggests that budgets are unrealistic, value for money is bad, and that relationships between the council and head teachers are tense.

It is claimed that a whistleblower has suffered victimisation and reduction of income during the investigation.

This is yet to be proven.

The council's selection criteria produced a recommendation to use a different contractor than the one chosen. Decision-making members were not informed that the contract was being awarded on the basis that problems at two other schools were rectified.

Council leader Isobel McCall said: "I am aware that some very serious issues have been highlighted in the report.

"We, as an administration, realised some time ago that there were issues around the school build programme.

"We made some movements to set up a programme management board. It was set up a little while ago to deal with issues, but we didn't realise quite how serious the issues were.

"The publication of this report will be very helpful and will help us to drive forward more improvements."

There have also been problems at Hazeley, Heronsgate in Walnut Tree and Oakgrove schools.

Half the schools examined were completed more than 28 days late.

The findings of the report will be presented to a special meeting of the council's audit committee on December 5.

The Olney Campus report and parts of the Giles Brook report are being withheld from the public for legal reasons.

Unnecessary force: Ron and Gerry Richardson of UK Smokers have filed a complaint against police officers

Couple arrested after calling cops to fracas

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A COUPLE who were arrested after a row outside their shop in Bletchley claim police officers were heavy handed.

The owners of tobacconist UK Smokers, on Queensway, were arrested after yelling abuse at a police officer on Tuesday November 20.

That evening Ron Richardson and his wife Gerry reported an assault outside their shop as 15 young men attacked a lone man in their doorway.

When a police officer arrived the suspects and victim had fled.

"We had a go at the police and said we are paying to have them but they do nothing," said Mr Richardson.

"I called the officer a 'useless tt'. Because we used foul language and were abusive we were arrested."

Mr Richardson claims the officers used unnecessary force to detain his wife.

"My wife was very violently thrown to the floor by two officers and handcuffed, while I was being threatened with a CS gas spray," he said.

"Gerry now has bruises and scratches on her arms and legs. I am sure that this must be the only country in the world where you can get arrested for reporting a crime."

The couple have filed a complaint against the officers.

Mr Richardson was issued with an £80 fine for verbally abusing a police officer in a public place.

His wife was given two cautions, one for a public order act offence and the other for criminal damage.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said: "To receive a caution the offender must accept that they broke the law. The man was given an £80 fine and signed to confirm he also understood he had broken the law."

He added that the officer, who arrived at the scene within five minutes of police receiving the call, was met by a torrent of abuse from the couple.

In a separate incident, police are investigating allegations that Mrs Richardson witnessed a man held in a police cell being punched in the face by an officer.

The police spokesman added: "The allegation that a suspect in our custody block was punched by an officer is an extremely serious suggestion and will be fully investigated."

Mothers left alone during labour

NEARLY half of women giving birth in Milton Keynes are left alone during labour according to a new report.

In the largest study of NHS maternity care the Healthcare Commission shows that Milton Keynes Hospital is the worst performing trust in the country.

It says that 49 per cent of women were left alone by medical staff during labour or soon afterwards, despite the fact they were worried.

Official guidelines from the National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence state that a woman in labour 'should not be left on her own except for short periods or at the woman's request'.

The report warns that midwives may be failing to adequately reassure women when they leave the room.

Last year the hospital's midwifery team delivered more than 3,600 babies, including 56 sets of twins.

The maternity unit is staffed by more than 120 midwives, seven obstetrics and gynaecology consultants and three matrons.

The watchdog surveyed 26,000 women across 148 trusts who had a baby in January or February.

Louise Silverton, deputy general secretary of the Royal College of Midwives, said at least 5,000 more full-time equivalent midwifery posts are needed to help address the problems.

The figures come just a week after midwives across Milton Keynes celebrated their achievements over the last year at an appreciation dinner.

Mary Sexton, acting director of nursing at Milton Keynes Hospital, said: "The majority of mothers are happy with the services offered in Milton Keynes, however, we will make full use of our results to improve our services."

Teacher made false job application

A TEACHER has been reprimanded after wrongly claiming she had a degree on her application form.

Lynda Christine West, of Pattison Lane, Woolstone, was found guilty of unacceptable professional conduct by the General Teaching Council at a hearing on November 20.

The misrepresentation was made on a handwritten application form to Stantonbury Campus on January 8 last year.

She got the job after stating that she had a degree when in fact she had a Higher National Diploma awarded in 1984. Under a section headed Examinations passed: give title/grade, Mrs West wrote: 'Fashion Datec Degree Class 1'.

Mrs West was applying for the position of teacher of design in resistant materials and food technology. She is not currently working at the school.

The reprimand will remain on her professional record for two years.

Yesterday Stantonbury Campus refused to comment.

The professional conduct committee said: "Mrs West in her evidence accepted that she completed the application form incorrectly.

"Making such a representation had the potential to give her an unfair advantage over other candidates and misled the school.

"We accept that in the light of this confusion Mrs West believed that she had a degree equivalent qualification. She has conceded that she was careless when completing the form.

Mrs West has a right of appeal to the High Court against the disciplinary order.

Biker is reunited with her life-saver

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A BIKER who nearly lost her leg in a road accident has been reunited with the air ambulance paramedic who helped save her.

Sue Smith, 46, from Shelly Drive, Bletchley suffered serious injuries when her bike collided with a car on October 7, 2006.

Since then she has undergone four operations, the first lasting seven hours, to rebuild her leg, foot and jaw and to plate her broken collarbone.

She says the last year has been 'horrendous', but believes it would have been much worse if an off-duty paramedic for Thames Valley and Chiltern Air Ambulance had not come to her aid.

Thirteen months on she has finally tracked down the paramedic, Mark Begley, to thank him for his help.

The incident happened on the A413 between Buckingham and Padbury at 4.30pm.

Mrs Smith was overtaking a line of traffic travelling behind a horse box on her 650 Yamaha Dragster, unaware of a junction ahead, when a car driver in front decided to turn right.

Her husband, David, who was following on his Harley Davidson motorbike, said: "As the car turned she went with it and her foot went into the front wheel.

"She went over the bonnet and came up with no helmet and no boot on.

"It ripped her crash helmet clean off and cut her jaw with the strap.

"I thought she's dead, I was convinced, but luckily not."

Air ambulance paramedic Mark was on his way to Tesco in Buckingham arriving minutes after two ambulances.

He said: "The leg was completely in the wrong direction and that in itself is quite a significant injury.

Right place, right time biker Sue Smith and paramedic Mark Begley

"There was no pulse in the leg, it was on its way to dying."

The journey, which would have taken around 25 minutes in a road ambulance, took six minutes by helicopter.

Mrs Smith was in hospital for a month and lost the use of her left leg and left arm for nine months leaving her wheelchair bound for that time.

Her leg will take another two years to heal and she is still having weekly physiotherapy to build up her muscles.

She said the last twelve months have been difficult for her husband and two sons Steven, 14, and Harley, 9.

"I was really lucky that Mark was in the right place at the right time and I'm sure that if he wasn't there it would have been a lot worse for me," she said.

"I feel extremely lucky that I had a good Samaritan there."

Mrs Smith has now gone back to work as a secretary and hopes to get back on her motorbike next summer

"Everyone thinks I'm mad but I'm a biker and that's it," she said.

Carl Undery, air ambulance area fundraiser for Buckinghamshire, said: "This makes all the hard work of the fundraisers worthwhile."

Website blunder reveals five city Post Offices facing chop

A ROYAL Mail blunder has revealed that five city Post Offices are facing the chop.

A map showing which of the country's Post Offices were to be axed was accidently put on the Royal Mail website.

The hit list singled out Little Brickhill, Conniburrow, Water Eaton, Midsummer Boulevard and Bletchley's Aylesbury Street as the local ones earmarked for closure.

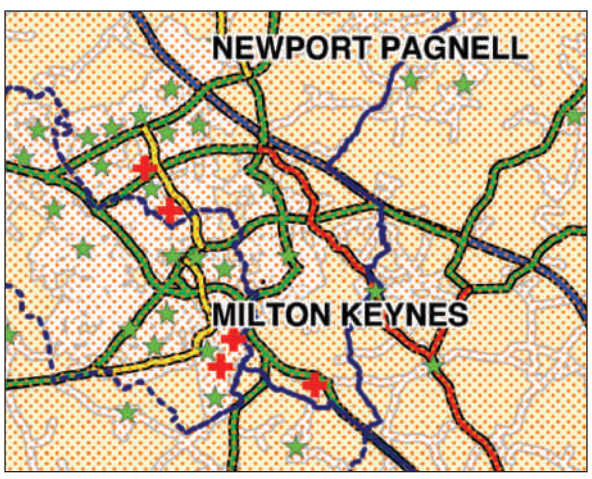
Once managers realised their mistake the map, which was supposed to remain secret, was removed.

This week Royal Mail apologised for the error.

The list should have been kept under wraps until the start of a public consultation next summer.

By the end of 2008 Royal Mail plans to have shut 2,500 post offices. That's more than one in five of its 14,300-strong network.

Staff and the public were being invited to make their views known before a final decision is taken.



Hit map: Crosses show city Post Offices set to be axed

City MP Mark Lancaster said: "This blunder by Royal Mail has let the cat out of the bag, so much for the promised consultation as it appears that it has already been decided that the city is set to lose another five post offices on top on those already lost in recent years."

A spokesman for Royal Mail said: "Any information shown about branches outside the area to which the consultation relates is simply provisional, untested, planning information, which isn't usually published because it will change in the course of our work with local stakeholders. We apologise for any confusion caused."

Children and young people an inspiration

SIR – Over the past few weeks I have privileged to have been invited to take part in a number of events involving the children and young people of Milton Keynes.

Through your newspaper would it be possible to send my thanks and congratulations to just a few of them?

On November 12 I watched as 500 children from Milton Keynes took part in the National Schools Prom held at The Royal Albert Hall.

It was an amazing event and the children were the highlight of the show!

Two day's later, along with council cabinet colleagues I sat at the first meeting with Milton Keynes Youth Cabinet – these young people gave an honest view of how the decisions local politicians make have an impact on their lives.

Only a day later I was invited to present awards at the Youth Service 'Celebrate' event. Once again I met remarkable young people who had undertaken challenges in support of their communities and friends.

Lastly, I was honoured to be invited to the Looked After Children Award Ceremony. These children are our most vulnerable youngsters and many have had very difficult starts to their young lives.

To listen to how they and their carers have overcome so many difficulties never fails to reduce me to an emotional wreck.

They all have my total admiration.

All too often Children and Young People receive negative press coverage. It is good to know that here in Milton Keynes our young people are engaged in such positive activities. My congratulations not just to them, but also to the parents, schools and the communities they represent.

They are an inspiration to us all.

Cllr Sandra Clark
Council cabinet member for children and young people

Community spirit

SIR – As a resident of West Bletchley, I take this opportunity to thank West Bletchley Parish Council for organising a colourful and wonderful cultural evening recently.

The 'inter Festival of Light (Rung Rung) was unique in nature since it incorporated festivals from different cultures such as Hanukah, Deepavali, Christmas and bonfire night which are celebrated in the winter season. The festival was multi-cultural and multi-ethnic in nature.

The procession started from Lord Grey school and finished at Bletchley park and it was very nice to see the children taking part in the procession. Young people tend to get bad publicity in the local press and they deserve special mention for their participation.

The festival of light consisted of music, dance illumination and fireworks. Runga Rung means colour of colours and this was shown by the floats in different colours and in fireworks.

Special thanks are due to the organisers, the professional group that took part in the event, the volunteers and the general public.

The event has shown the community spirit that prevails among the the residents of West Bletchley by taking part in the festival in large numbers in spite of the cold weather.

Well done West Bletchley Parish Council.

Arun Vaidyanathan
West Bletchley

Own it, win it!

SIR – I see in last week's MK NEWS (page 84) that thecentre:mk has been awarded a top award – by the company that owns it!

In the same spirit you might care to know that Urban Eden has just been awarded the prestigious 'Best Ever Lobby Group, Ever' award by er, Urban Eden.

We were thrilled to be given this accolade which came completely out of the blue.

I'd like to thank all involved who have worked so hard to put us where we are today. It truly is a great honour and one which reflects the importance of our mission to save Milton Keynes from mindless overdevelopment.

The award was presented to Urban Eden at a glittering ceremony in my broom cupboard ten minutes ago.

Theo Chalmers
Chairman, Urban Eden

Senses hurt over crass and insensitive headline

SIR – Last week's story in MK NEWS, 'Gangs and fatties on Youth Cabinet agenda'.

This was an excellent article, but unfortunately it was marred by a surprisingly crass and insensitive headline.

Young people with weight problems must have found it toe-curling and the casual reader would have been left with completely the wrong impression about the story to follow.

However, if they did read on, they would have found an article which very accurately reflected the sheer hard work put in by these young people in forming a Youth Cabinet and the very serious topics that concern them.

Their first meeting with the actual cabinet was a serious and important event for Milton Keynes and from the feedback we have received both groups felt they really gained something.

We have great young people in Milton Keynes so, please, continue to celebrate them and support them in the work that they do.

Sue Payne
Children, youth and play manager, Milton Keynes Council

Bag advantage

SIR – So Mr Smith of Old Stratford is pleased he lives over the border out of Milton Keynes. (Letters November 14)

So am I, as we do not need him pontificating on how we are organised and he should stick to affairs his own side of the border.

Bin bags may not be the ideal system but they do have advantages.

Where they are used, many people leave wheelie bins in their front gardens because of their cumbersome nature, creating eyesores which are not mirrored by heaps of bags where wheelies have not invaded.

Bags placed at strategic roadside points are cleared much faster by the refuse collectors who do not have to load and operate each bin individually thus saving costs.

Wheelie bins utilise a lot more raw materials in their construction so cost more than bags and also consume large amounts of energy in their manufacture.

Wheelies are therefore more expensive, more time consuming, inefficient in use of energy and eyesores so I hope they stay the other side of the MK border along with Mr Smith.

David Kirkbright,
Lakes Lane, Newport Pagnell

The right to strike

SIR – Re the recent weekly strike action by Silverlink train drivers.

I took the time to write to ASLEF and after a series of e-mails, I quickly discovered they were unable to provide any detail on precisely why they were striking (beyond claiming their pensions were being 'attacked' – but in what way, I asked?).

After totally failing to convince me there was a real item in dispute, they wrote, and I quote: 'If we give in every time one of the freight or train operating companies tries to make yet more money for their shareholders (yes, profit is their motive not your satisfaction) we would have very few members'.

I suspect I'm not alone in being disgusted at ASLEF for striking in an effort to increase union membership.

I also went on to ask ASLEF if they would be paying Thames Valley Police for the cost of putting officers into the railway station to maintain order, yet ASLEF declined to comment.

We're all taxpayers, and our taxes are used to subsidise the railways, while commuters pay a hefty price for season tickets.

Union members have absolutely no right to go on strike every week at the expense of everyone else in society – if the train drivers feel hard up, they are free to find an alternative career.

Many people receive the most basic employer contribution to their pension, and ASLEF's members should be grateful for any increase on the state minimum.

ASLEF owe us an apology, and I do hope Thames Valley Police invoice them for the officers present on strike days.

John Baker,
Broughton

Bag challenge

SIR – I see that there has been yet another attempt recently to get people to stop using the free plastic bags that the supermarkets give out too readily and to start using bags that can be re-used repeatedly.

When I look around a supermarket when I go shopping it seems to me that most of the people complying with this are, like me, grey haired and retired.

So I am issuing a challenge to all you younger folk to see if you can equal the older generation let alone beat us.

Global warming will be more of a problem to your generation than ours.

Are you equal to the challenge?

Come out to see the Queen

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

THE Queen's visit is nearly here and Milton Keynes is making the final preparations.

The royal party will arrive to officially open thehub at 11am tomorrow before opening stadiummk and the St John Ambulance Centre in Greenleys.

Organiser Gavin Anderson is urging bosses to give staff a short break from work so they can join others who will line the royal route along Midsummer Boulevard, which will be closed to traffic for three hours from 9.30am.

Gavin said: "Companies in Milton Keynes should not let this be just another day in the office.

"Local businesses should allow staff to come out to see the Queen."

While the crowds wave The Queen and Prince Phillip towards stadiummk, more than 20,000 people will take their seats inside MK Dons home for the opening ceremony.

The Queen's glass-backed Bentley will travel along V6 Grafton Street before arriving at the stadium at around 11.45am for the showpiece event.

Gavin said: "So many smaller companies have helped us out and children across the city have been rehearsing for weeks.

"This day will be celebrated for the people, by the people.

"It's about the gift of memories to the children."

There will be no public parking at stadiummk, except for disabled blue badge holders with tickets, but 500 spaces are available at the National Bowl North car park.

A free park and ride service will operate from the National Bowl to stadiummk from 9am with returns from 12.45pm.

The Queen will leave the stadium after the ceremony at around 12.30pm, travelling to Greenleys along the A5D.

For full details on parking and road closures visit www.mk-news.co.uk and click on Royal Visit.

■ FANCY a royal party? Well thehub:mk are in the mood.

The complex is holding a right Royal party for two nights.

Some of the city's best Bands and the country's top, unique street entertainers will be performing live on stage in the central Piazza at thehub:mk (just behind Jury's Inn) to celebrate the official opening of thehub:mk.

The stage created for the Queen's visit will be left up for the two nights so everyone can let their hair down between 6pm and 10.30pm on Thursday and 5.30pm and 10.30pm on Friday.

Six key themes in six Royal minutes

AS organisers and dignitaries make the final arrangements for the Queen one man is looking forward to giving her a six-minute history lesson on Milton Keynes.

Dr Michael Synnott, director of the City Discovery Centre for the last ten years, will guide the Queen around an exhibition at the Ramada Encore Hotel, while Milton Keynes Council chief executive John Best shows Prince Phillip around.

Dr Synnott said: "I'll be the Queen's guide and interpreter but I will only get a very strict six minutes with her. Not many people ever get to meet her so I'm lucky to have that long. Her visit is going to be a very positive gain for Milton Keynes because the thing that forges communities is shared memories and children will remember this day forever."

The exhibition will cover six key themes in Milton Keynes since the 70s including cultural heritage and diversity; innovation and pioneering new ideas; and engaging families and citizens.

The Queen will then be introduced to the city's prospective Olympians before being guided around the Piazza and taking a look at its latest edition, a public art sculpture called Light Flow.

The two vertical light sculptures have been funded by Crest Nicholson and developed jointly by Quartet Design, Milton Keynes Council Public Art Unit and Frontier Development.

Light Flow uses LEDs and mirror stainless steel to create patterns of light intended to lead people into thehub and create a lively contemporary ambience for the square and its users.

The interactive artworks allow anybody to choose a selection of different light effects using one of six mobile phone text commands; sparkle, rainbow, splash, blue, flow, ripple.

Sculptor Peter Freeman, said: "Lightflow developed as a response to the theme of water in the landscape design and the surrounding glass and steel tall modernist buildings at thehub.

"I've been told I will have 60 seconds with the Queen but I'll be happy if I just get to see her."

Councillors to get lessons in 'respect' after bust-up

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

PARISH councillors are to be taught how to be respectful.

All councillors on Campbell Park Parish Council have also been ordered to undergo further training by the Standards Board following a bust up.

It comes as a result of an investigation into a husband and wife pair who both sit on the parish council.

Isabella Fraser, who is also a Milton Keynes Councillor, and her husband Tom stood accused of failing to treat others with respect.

The investigation was dropped this week but the Standards Board has issued lengthy guidelines to the parish council.

The Standards Board is a national body that promotes the ethical behaviour of councillors.

Now councillors and officers will have to be trained on respectful communication, efficient working relationships and conflict resolution, take guidance on conflict resolution, and will be taught about each others' roles.

> My feeling is that the Standards Board has got to the heart of the matter and they they've recognised that some members need retraining
> Martin Petchey, chairman of Campbell Park Parish Council

Milton Keynes Council's monitoring officer Phil McCourt will arrange the training.

A spokesman for the Standards Board said: "Directions are something that we may issue when we feel that some other form of action rather than an investigation may be appropriate.

"This is most likely to happen in cases where the ethical standards officer considers that the case has a wider relevance to the ethical governance of an authority and the issues involved would not be resolved adequately by making a finding for or against an individual member."

Martin Petchey, chairman of the parish council said: "My feeling is that the Standards Board has got to the heart of the matter and they they've recognised that some members need retraining. The sensible thing is to make the retraining available to all of us so that we are all coming from the same direction and can move forward."

Complaints were also made to the Standards Board about parish councillors Danny Conway and Martin Petchey by a member of the same authority.

Cllr Conway was reported to the Standards Board in February 2007, but it referred the case to Milton Keynes Council's Monitoring Officer.

The investigation is ongoing.

The Standards Board decided not to investigate the complaint that was made against Martin Petchey in June 2007 due to insufficient information.

Stony Stratford one-way High Street plans go on display

PLANS to turn the High Street in Stony Stratford into a one way road will be displayed at a public exhibition next week.

The idea is among proposals aimed at easing traffic problems in the town.

Milton Keynes Council is displaying the plans and giving residents the chance to comment at Stony Stratford Library from Thursday December 6 until Saturday December 8.

The proposals also include a traffic calming scheme on London road, a formal crossing on Church Street close to the junction with High Street and, the introduction of waiting restrictions and residents' permit parking to deal with various parking problems throughout Stony Stratford.

Cllr Chris Williams, cabinet member for transport, said: "These proposals are the result of extensive discussions between MK Council, Stony Stratford Town Council, ward members and local residents."

"We are now seeking the views of Stony Stratford residents."

"We hope that these proposals if implemented will help resolve the traffic problems."

The exhibition will run from 9am until 5pm on Thursday December 6, from 9am until 8pm on Friday December 7 and between 9am and 1pm on Saturday December 8.

The council hopes to start work on the changes early in 2008.

OAP neglected in MK Hospital care

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A CORONER has accused Milton Keynes Hospital of neglect.

It follows an inquest into the death of a 76-year-old Mary Battison who who tested negative for clostridium difficile (C.diff) on her arrival at Milton Keynes Hospital, but died of heart failure after testing positive for the bug later into her stay.

The hospital claims there is no evidence that the patient contracted the bug in hospital.

Deputy coroner Tom Osbourne said the hospital neglected the patient but that the neglect did not cause her death.

Mrs Battison, of St George's Way, Wolverton, went into hospital on July 27 with shortness of breath and leg swelling.

On August 16 and 17 the mother of two was regarded as fit for discharge.

But when she got sickness and diaorrhea and her condition declined over August 17 and 18, she was tested for C.diff again.This time the test results were positive and she was transferred to an isolation room.

Hospital representative Dr Samurai said: "A certain percentage of the population carry C.difficile. She tested negative for C.diff in the early part of her stay but it doesn't necessarily mean she didn't have it. There is no evidence that this was a hospital contracted infection."

Neglect: Mary Battison died in the care of MK Hospital

However deputy coroner Tom Osbourne argued: "I think Dr Parmajit Samurai stated rather heavily that she did not contract [C.diff] in hospital. She didn't have it when she went in."

Consultant physician Dr Ijaz Mehdi made strict orders that fluid balance charts were maintained. This was compromised because Mrs Battison could not be catheterised, but no charts could be found.

Food charts for the patient showed that over three weeks she barely ate.

Mr Osbourne criticised the hospital's system for alerting doctors when a patient is not eating.

In the early hours of August 19, Mrs Battison went into cardiac arrest and died.

Consultant pathologist Ian Calder said: "One thing she did have was a very compromised cardiac system."

Mr Osbourne, returning a narrative verdict, said: "I am concerned by the level of care that Mrs Battison received. I am not satisfied that the fluid balance charts were ever maintained.

"Concern was being shown by all those treating her about her fluid intake.

"While I may conclude the care she received did amount to neglect, I am not satisfied that the care she received amounted to her death."

The causes of death given were 1a) acute and chronic left ventricular failure, b) ischaemic heart disease, c) narrowing of the coronary arteries, d) C.diff infection and dehydration, and 2) mitral stenosis and hypertension.

A hospital spokesman said: "The inquest revealed that the cause of death was severe heart disease, resulting in heart failure due to coronary artery disease, as originally recorded on the death certificate.

"As explained by the pathologist, the post-mortem shows that the bowel was normal, revealing that C.diff was not the cause of death."

Rev Nagahama presents visiting Theravadan monks with gifts of tea

Reverend Handa remembered and new chief monk welcomed

BY ALICIA BABAEE

alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

MORE than 100 mourners gathered at a ceremony on Sunday to mark 100 days since the death of the chief monk at Willen Lake's Peace Pagoda, who died in a mowing accident.

Gyosei Handa Shonin, 50, was on a tractor with lawn mowing equipment when he fell and became trapped underneath the heavy machine on August 21.

A family came across him and called the emergency services.

Reverend Handa, best known for his annual Hiroshima Day lantern ceremonies, helped to build the Peace Pagoda in 1980 and has been there ever since.

He presided over the lantern ceremony two weeks prior to his death on August 6.

Last week a new chief monk, Reverend Nagahama arrived from Japan and the ceremony also included a welcoming for him.

Bandula Chandraratna, a novelist who was at the ceremony, said: "It was an excellent day. Lots of people came, there was lots of food. There were some wonderful speeches. It was a lovely ceremony for the wonderful man we lost."

Monks from all over the country attended the ceremony.

In a tribute to Reverend Handa after he died, his chief nun Sister Yoshie Maruta said: "He never criticised. He was always calm, always listening to people. He had lots of compassion.

"He would never ask people to do things, but always worked so hard himself. He was always trying to save money.

"This is why he was cutting the grass himself. If the lawnmower needed fixing, he would do it himself."

Following the accident monks from all over the country came to Milton Keynes to offer chants and prayers.

An inquest into his death will take place next year.

An artist's impression of part of the Places for People development near Junction 14

Work set to start on 2,500 homes

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A MASSIVE £350 million development will built on the eastern flank of the city near junction 14 of the M1 motorway.

The agreement made last week will see 2,500 homes and community facilities rising from a 365 acre piece of land.

It is part of the Government's major urban expansion scheme.

Construction work by Making Places is expected to commence in March 2008 with the first new homes available as early as Spring 2009.

The Brooklands development will include health and community services, two new schools, and local shopping and entertainment facilities.

The site has been acquired from a consortium of Hallam Land Management Ltd, William Davis Ltd and TGR Williams & Son, there is already outline planning permission for a major mixed-use community that includes 2,500 new homes.

Making Places is a joint venture between property management and development company Places for People and Cofton, a land regeneration and development specialist.

Places for People is responsible for the West End One project in Central Milton Keynes; the regeneration of the Royal Train Shed site in Wolverton and one of the largest environmentally friendly schemes in the country at Broughton Atterbury.

David Shaw, development director at Making Places said: "These plans represent a golden opportunity to deliver a vibrant new community in Milton Keynes, where people can live and work in a sustainable neighbourhood with a mix of homes, including a proportion of affordable homes for local people.

"Working in partnership with the council and local community, we will provide people with attractive housing that is built to a high environmental standard, as well as local employment opportunities, health and community services."

Bill Warden, director of Hallam Land Management said: "We have worked successfully with Milton Keynes Partnership to plan Brooklands in accordance with the best practice for sustainable new communities."

MKNEWSBRIEFS

Attack on cyclist

A 17-YEAR-OLD was pulled from his bike and thrown into a road during an unprovoked attack.

The victim was cycling down Tattenhoe Lane, Bletchley, at around 1pm on Monday when a man approached him.

The man told him to get out of his way before lifting him off the bike and launching him into the path of on-coming traffic.

Luckily the victim only suffered minor injuries from the fall and did not require medical treatment.

Police described the offender as white with ginger hair, about 20-years-old, stocky and 5ft 8ins tall.

He was wearing a navy blue tracksuit with a hooded top.

Anyone with information can contact police on 08458 505505.

Hospice extension cash

WORK will be completed on an extension at Willen Hospice after it raised £50,000 through donations.

The hospice, in Willen Village, received £100,000 from the Department of Health but had to raise the remainder through public donations.

Christopher Eyes, the hospice chief executive, said: "I'm overwhelmed by the response of the general public and our supporters to our appeal."

Building work began on the extension on October 1 and is on target to be finished by April 2008.

Parish council 'quality'

WEST Bletchley Parish Council has been awarded 'quality parish council status'.

It is the third parish or town council in Milton Keynes to receive the award.

Cllr Elaine Wales said: "I am delighted that West Bletchley Council has been awarded quality status in recognition of the hard work put in by parish councillors and staff."

The council passed a number of specified tests to get the award.

Potty about panto dame

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

FOR the first time in four years a loveable panto dame will be winning the hearts of the audience at Milton Keynes Theatre in December.

Dame Widow Twankey will be played by pantomime veteran and ex-Coronation Street star Eric Potts in next month's production of Aladdin.

The theatre has not seen this most traditional of panto characters on its stage since Christmas 2003.

Mr Potts explained the difference between the dame and 'baddy' characters such as the ugly sisters, seen in last year's production of Cinderella.

"What I think of as a dame is a character that by the end of the show every child will want to go up and hug," he said.

"If they feel like that then I feel like I have done my job properly."

He enjoys playing the role as he feels proud to be part of a great tradition.

"Many great British comedians have played dames, such as Les Dawson and Norman Evans; it is an honour to be part of that," he said.

Mr Potts has performed in 14 pantomimes across the country, including playing Mother Goose and the dame in Dick Whittington.

This is his fifth production of Aladdin. He said the production's brand new set and costumes will look breathtaking.

"I wear nine different costumes during the production, they go from one ridiculous extreme to the other," he said.

"When Aladdin has been to the cave and comes back with the lamp and treasure Widow Twanky gets a lovely new posh frock, with is perhaps a bit less lovely than she thinks as it is all a bit frilly and OTT."

Mr Potts, who has never performed in Milton Keynes before, said the theatre is a lovely, well-designed modern venue and, he is enjoying the sights of the city between rehearsals.

"I popped in to the shops this weekend, along with most of the rest of the world it seemed," he added.

The panto, which starts on December 7, also stars Coronation Street funnyman Bradley Walsh and Eloise Irving and Michael Quinn from Grease is the Word.

■ ON Saturday, two of the panto stars took time out of their busy rehearsal schedule to visit Frosts garden centre at Woburn Sands to welcome a very special guest.

Michael Quinn who plays Aladdin and Eloise Irving who plays Princess Jasmine posed for pictures and signed autographs before greeting Santa as he arrived in an amazing red stretched limousine.

Be one of the first to see this year's show – good seats are still available for opening weekend.

Council backs waterway

MILTON Keynes Council has confirmed its continuing support for the Bedford to Milton Keynes Waterway project.

The move has come after the waterway trust was dealt a huge blow when it failed to secure a £25million lottery grant last month.

At a meeting of full council on Tuesday November 13 councillors unanimously passed a motion which stressed the importance of the project to the continuing development of the city and the surrounding region.

Jane Wolfson, chairman of the B&MK Waterway Trust said: "We are delighted that the council is continuing to support the waterway."

"The scheme has moved forward so much during the past eighteen months with the £250,000 lottery grant we were awarded earlier, which has enabled us to undertake the detailed planning required prior to construction of the Milton Keynes Waterway part of the project."

The Milton Keynes Waterway Park proposals consist of the construction of the Milton Keynes section of the Bedford to Milton Keynes Waterway running six kilometres from the Grand Union Canal via Willen Lake, through Broughton Brook Linear Park into the eastern expansion area.

Chips for pets on the Lakes Estate

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

PETS in the Lakes Estate are being micro chipped at a discounted price this week as part of an RSPCA action event.

The estate is one of eight in the region chosen as part of the RSPCA's Community Animal Action Week, as it is particularly busy for the RSPCA on a day-to-day basis.

Community Animal Action Week is in its second year after helping more than 2,800 animals in eight other areas in 2006.

RSPCA staff were at the Lakes Estate Community Centre in Fern Grove yesterday for their first day micro chipping pets and giving animal welfare advice.

They will also be there between 9.30am and 5pm today (Wednesday November 28) and Friday November 30, from 9.30am to 8pm on Thursday November 29 and 9am to 1pm on Saturday November 31.

Neutering vouchers will also be provided.

The service is free, but anyone receiving help is welcome to make a small donation towards the charity's costs.

Local RSPCA officers will also team up with volunteers to visit homes in the Lakes Estate until Saturday December 1 to offer animal care advice.

Visits will be carried out between 9.30am and 5pm each day.

Rob Skinner, RSPCA chief inspector for Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire, said: ""The sole aim is to provide assistance for anyone who needs it and to prevent animal welfare problems from occurring."

We all hope it's chips, it's chips: An RSPCA officer tags Max, a King Charles spaniel, with the help of owner George Armstrong

Who will deal with your affairs and welfare if you can't? Don't lose your right to choose your Attorney by waiting until its too late.

From the 1st October 2007 the Enduring Power of Attorney (EPA) has been replaced with a revised type of power called a Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA). However, EPAs made prior to 1st October will continue to be valid.

The LPA has now replaced the EPA as one of the most important legal protection mechanisms for your future. Indeed having an LPA in place is just as important as making a Will because it affects you during your lifetime. The benefit of the LPA is that it will allow you and your family the certainty of knowing who will deal with your affairs and personal welfare if you become incapable of making decisions about these things yourself. Moreover, you will have the comfort of knowing that the Attorney dealing with your affairs is the person of your choice and not someone whom the Court chooses to appoint on your behalf.

Unlike the EPA, an LPA will need to be registered with the Court of Protection before it may be used by your attorney (s). A person can make two types of LPA.

A Property and Affairs Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your property and financial affairs.

You can appoint a property and affairs Attorney to manage your finances and property whilst you still have capacity as well as when you lack capacity. For example, it may be easier for you to give someone the power to carry out tasks such as paying your bills if you find it difficult to get about. Please note that the document has to be registered before it can be used.

A personal Welfare Lasting Power of Attorney allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your personal healthcare and welfare.

As you can see the protection offered by an LPA can be invaluable. Please contact us today to see how we can help.

Pole position: MP Mark Lancaster and Cllr Don Hoyle under the Union Flag

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

THE Union Flag is now flying outside the council's Saxon Court offices and the Civic Offices.

In July MK NEWS revealed that a row had broken out over whether Milton Keynes Council should be flying the national emblem.

Letters from the public flooded in.

There was an overwhelming response in favour of flying the Union Flag over the council's flag which was being flown at the time.

The Union Flag is known as the Union Jack when flown on a ship.

Council leader Isobel McCall was asked by fellow councillor Don Hoyle to fly the Union Flag on July 10 at a full council meeting.

She said at the time: "Certainly on days like Royal birthdays, we do fly the Union Flag. But most of the time we fly the council flag because we are Milton Keynes Council and it's our council building.

"We used to have two poles but somehow one developed a nasty bend in it and it was deemed unsafe."

She conducted an electronic ballot on the issue and 30 out of 51 councillors responded, with 16 voting for the council flag and 14 the Union Flag.

But on seeing the public's response, the council vowed it would listen.

At the time city MP Mark Lancaster spoke out in favour of the Union Flag, saying: "As someone who has fought for my country I find it deeply insulting that the council should even hesitate in flying the Union Flag."

This week Mr Lancaster said: "I'm delighted that common sense seems to have prevailed at the council after our campaign, I trust however that the Union Flag will now be a permanent fixture and not just a temporary measure ahead of Her Majesty's visit later this week."

Cops speak to M-way coach crash driver

THE driver of the coach which overturned at Newport Pagnell service station last month has been interviewed by police.

The 34-year-old, from West Bromwich, was arrested at the scene on suspicion of drink driving and driving dangerously but was released on bail.

He was interviewed by officers from Thames Valley Police in the West Midlands yesterday.

He was re-bailed until the end of November when he will return to Milton Keynes police station.

Not guilty plea to Oldbrook murder

A 22-YEAR-OLD man will face trial for murdering housemate David Williams at his flat on Oldbrook.

Eric Erron Johnson, of Devonport Road, London, was remanded in custody at Luton Crown Court last Monday after pleading not guilty to murder.

Mr Williams was 30-years-old when he was brutally stabbed at his home in Oldbrook Boulevard, Oldbrook, on Friday, August 3.

He was taken to Milton Keynes Hospital where he later died.

Thames Valley Police released a photograph of Mr Johnson, who was seen running from the scene, in the hope that someone might know his whereabouts.

Three weeks after the investigation began detectives found Mr Johnson in London where he was arrested and taken to Milton Keynes police station before being charged.

His trial will begin in May.

Picking up good vibrations

Pinch an inch: Alicia Babaee on a vibration machine with Mick Brown

Vibration therapy is a huge craze among toned and skinny celebrities right now. ALICIA BABAEE tried it out to see what all the fuss is about STARTING a course of vibration therapy was a desperate attempt by a girl who's developed an aversion to the gym in recent months.

Combined with my exceptionally sweet tooth, it was a recipe for disaster.

I'd put on quite a few pounds, around half a stone if I'm precise, and I was looking decidely less toned than I once was.

I had a look around for something, anything that could help me in time for the Christmas parties, knowing the other option involved slogging my guts out in the gym and eating less over the next few months. It didn't sound fun.

I'd read about vibration therapy in celebrity magazines, which claimed the machines could tone muscle, burn fat and reduce cellulite.

But if I'm honest I thought this vibration lark sounded a bit too good to be true.

Was standing on a vibrating plate for ten minutes three times a week really going to help me out?

I called Good Vibrations in Olney and Mick Brown and Sarah Bland invited me to their studio.

They recommended ten sessions and took my measurements, my weight and some photos for comparison only.

For me the best bit was that a ten minute session, the daily limit, is equivalent to an hour toning in the gym. You don't even have to get changed.

Two oscillating plates send vibrations through your body causing muscles to contract.

In the ten minutes you're on it, the vibrations induce over 10,000 muscle contractions. The more muscle a person has, the faster they burn calories.

The first time I stood on the machine I got the giggles.

Initially Sarah had me holding a few basic positions such as a squat, standing with legs apart, leaning back, and a plank with my arms on the plate.

As the weeks went by she introduced medicine balls for me to hold in different ways, push ups, and some movement such as twisting my body and leaning from side to side.

After four one-to-one sessions, I felt I already looked more toned.

After ten Sarah measured me again and I'd lost over two inches from my hips, over an inch from my waist and an inch from my bust.

I'd lost a pound in weight, and there was a marked improvement since the initial photos.

Vibration therapy is popular with mothers trying to tone up and tighten pelvic floor muscles after giving birth and pensioners who need to keep their muscles strong.

The machines have been used for years by ballerinas, gymnasts and sportsmen to regain strength after an injury.

Initially they were invented by the Russians for astronauts to use. With a lack of gravity they lost bone and muscle density, and they had to keep coming back to earth.

They created the vibration machines to strengthen them so they could stay in space longer, and in using them they discovered the rehabilitation properties.

Sarah said: "Very overweight people could find it makes things like bending down in the supermarket and getting back up a lot easier.

"Someone said to me they can now buy boots in shops because they now fit over their calves.

"More mature clients say their skin tightness and tone in their face has improved.

"The inch loss or weight loss is down to the individual. But it's good in conjunction with healthy eating, and with plenty of water in you diet."

Mick added: "I haven't been to a gym for 18 months and I haven't lost any muscle tone. We start getting busy now with people wanting to get fit for skiing. We even have three MS patients who come in."

■ Ten sessions at Good Vibrations costs £50. Call Mick or Sarah on 01234 714824 for a free trial or go to www.goodvibrationshealth-studios.com. There is a second branch in Newport Pagnell, call 01908 2113999.

Retail giant plans a store on 'stilts'

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

CONTROVERSIAL plans for a larger Tesco store in Wolverton have been submitted to Milton Keynes Council.

Tesco unveiled proposals to build a new store in the town in November last year.

The plans would see the existing store replaced with a new shop built on stilts, bringing it up to the same level as the shops on Stratford Road and providing a link to the town centre and customer parking below.

The store would be more than twice as big, growing from the current 6,764 square metres to 14,562 square metres.

As reported in MK NEWS in July a residents' group has been set up to campaign against the plans.

Its organiser Jamie Chalmers, from Buckingham Street, Wolverton says the plans are "looming large like the Grim Reaper over the independent businesses in the town".

"They have seen Tesco expand once six years ago and managed to survive, but another expansion will kill them," he said.

The group claim there is no need for a larger store and that the net effect to the town and the local economy would be negative.

An online petition set up by the group has been signed by more than 200 people.

Anti Tesco expansion campaigners Jamie Charmers and David Hancock outside the store at Stratford Road

But Tesco insists customer feedback has said the store is over shopped and says its proposals will offer a wider range of goods in a modern, comfortable shopping environment, will contribute to the vitality of the local economy and community to ensure long-term success of both the store and the area and, will provide investment and create a further 250 new jobs.

The plans also include custom - uilt premises for the community centre and the Living Archive which will allow space for three new shops on Stratford Road.

Chairman of Wolverton and Greenleys Town Council, Hilary Saunders, said residents' opinion is mixed as some are pleased a larger store could be built within walking distance, whilst others are worried about the future of local shops.

She said the pet shop and butcher have already closed in the town and some residents see the proposals as "the last nail in the coffin of the local greengrocers."

However, she thinks plans to lift the store level with Stratford Road may help local shops.

"There may be more chance of people coming out of Tesco and popping into the stores in Wolverton," she said.

Wolverton Town Council will decide whether to support the plans at a future meeting.

Jail hardman's life to be filmed

THE life of Britain's most violent inmate is to be made into a film.

Charles Bronson, 53, has served most of his adult life behind bars since he was first jailed for armed robbery in 1974.

Since then he has become famous for his actions inside including taking a guard hostage and staging a rooftop protest at Broadmoor.

In 2000 Bronson spent time at the so-called Hannibal Lecter-style close supervision units at Woodhill Prison.

While there he famously went on the rampage in his high security cell and fighting with up to 24 prison officers.

After a five-hour stand-off, staff wearing riot clothing moved in and restrained 18-stone Bronson.

Heartthrob actor Tom Hardy is being lined up to play the role of the notorious hardman.

Mr Hardy's credits include Star Trek film Nemesis, Scenes of a Sexual Nature and Band of Brothers.

All burgled homes to get support visit

CITY police will send support officers to every home that has been burgled during November.

The move is part of a month-long campaign, Operation Delegate, which is aimed at reducing burglaries and locking up offenders.

A police statement said: "Anyone who has become the victim of domestic burglary this month will be visited by their local Police Community Support Officers (PCSOs) in a bid to reassure them and provide any additional advice or support they may need."

PCSOs will be also provide additional crime prevention information and methods to help residents protect their property and goods from repeat burglaries, including Smartwater UV pens to mark their valuables.

Chief Inspector Andy Standen said: "We want to reassure residents their local PSCOs are carrying out high visibility patrols to help prevent any opportunist thief's and they are on hand if anyone wants any additional crime prevention information or has any local issues they want to discuss."

‘Nodding dogs’ agreed end of tenants’ forum

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

MEMBERS of a tenants’ housing forum have called in the council’s decision to develop a new framework for tenant involvement.

At the beginning of the month the council’s cabinet nodded through the decision to implement a new ay of working with tenants.

The changes follow recommendations made in an Audit Commission report.

But tonight the decision will be discussed by an executive scrutiny panel after 20 residents called it in.

Tenants believe that the council decided to disband its housing forum before any consultation was held.

The forum was the council’s recognised consulting body on all tenant-related matters for the its 1,000 houses. On November 15 it was officially disbanded.

The council claims the new framework will increase the potential for tenants to get involved in shaping the housing service. This could include formal meetings, surveys, or sending in views by e-mail.

But Margaret Burke, former vice chairman of the tenants’ forum, said: “I am disgusted with the council. The cabinet meeting was a group of nodding dogs who had obviously reached agreement before the meeting to pass it unanimously.

“The statement has a number of errors in it in that residents can already get in touch in all the ways listed because of Tenants Voice – nothing to do with the new framework.

“There has not been widespread consultation. If you look at the numbers contacted to fill in the surveys it is a very small proportion of tenants.”

The council says the new resident involvement framework will improve customer focus, strengthen the focus on equality and diversity, improve the approach to financial management and value for money, improve the governance of the housing, increase the impact of resident involvement and improve performance management.

In October MK NEWS reported that leaked documents proved the council had misled tenants over its decision to close the forum.

Cllr Irene Henderson cabinet member for housing, said: “We want people to feel good about where they live and put down roots so that they can contribute to making their local communities and areas stronger and better places to live.

“Some of the key changes in the framework will be the setting up of a new tenant services group that will be less formal, have a simple constitution, meet less frequently and is chaired independently.”

Hospice kids guests of MK Dons

ONE HUNDRED children with life-limiting conditions supported the MK Dons this weekend, after their hospice received free tickets.

Eight of the children had the opportunity to go down to the pitch side where they had their picture taken with some of the players. Although the Dons lost 2-1 to Chesterfield on Saturday, spirits remained high among the children, their families and staff from Keech Cottage Children’s Hospice who were there to cheer them on.

The tickets were supplied by Football First, which aims to increase opportunities for disabled and black and ethnic minorities to participate in football, whether this be watching it, playing it or coaching.

It is funded by Milton Keynes Council Sports Development, MK Dons Football in the Community and the Football Foundation.

Spare the stick, spoil the child ...

... not at MK College where 3,000 students have been given free computer memory sticks

Plugged in: Callum Wood, 16, from Tattenhoe, checks out his memory stick

THE day of the paperless environment has moved a step closer at Milton Keynes College.

The college has given 3,000 students a free computer memory stick in a bid to drastically cut down paper waste – an initiative believed to be one of the first in the country.

Sustainable development manager Stephen West said that this was a fantastic way of helping students to work in a greener way:

"Students can save all their work on the college server and internet site, and then copy their work onto their flash pens and transfer it to their home computer.

In the past they would have printed their work out, so this is going to cut down on paper and printing usage significantly."

Stephen says that students have been enthusiastic about the scheme, and are keen to do their bit to help preserve energy and resources.

He added: "We want Milton Keynes College to be known as a sustainable college, and have started a series of initiatives designed to lower our carbon footprint."

One of these schemes has been to introduce 30 new cycle lockers at Chaffron Way and Kiln Farm campuses, so that students and staff will feel happier about leaving cycles, helmets and clothing at college in a secure place. Another 30 cycle lockers are being introduced at the Bletchley Campus later this year.

Another big initiative has been to start a 'park and ride' scheme for staff and students at the Bletchley Campus.

Staff and students can now leave their cars at the Stadium:mk at Denbigh and catch regular shuttle buses into college.

"This has been a big success," said Stephen, "It will really reduce the carbon footprint of the college, and substantially reduces the amount of traffic going in and out of Bletchley."

The college has also launched a big recycling campaign, and has installed containers to collect everything from ink cartridges through to batteries and cardboard.

"Although only introduced at the start of term, everyone has been enthusiastic and our recycling has increased by 90 per cent," Stephen added.

Tooth burglar's sentence cut

A BURGLAR who stole £16,000 of jewellery – and a youngster's set of milk teeth – has won a cut in his jail term at London's Court of Appeal.

Geoffrey Lawrence Stratton, of Eagle Gardens, Bedford, pleaded guilty to burglary at Aylesbury Crown Court and in September this year was given an 18-month jail term.

Today judges declared the sentence too long after hearing that Stratton, 21, was a first-time burglar with no similar previous convictions.

His sentence was halved to nine months.

The court heard that Stratton and another man broke into a house in Milton Keynes.

The raid, which was described as particularly distressing for the householder concerned, also netted Stratton and his partner in crime a set of teeth which belonged to the property owner's child and were said to be of enormous sentimental value.

Stratton was arrested some months later, and said he only took part after being placed under pressure by a man to whom he owed money.

He had shown genuine remorse while behind bars, and only had one previous conviction, for an unrelated and minor offence.

Child nursery owner admits sex offences

A NURSERY owner who admitted more than 30 charges of sexual assault and taking indecent pictures of children is being held at Woodhill Prison.

Daniel Lynch, of Barrs Lane, Taplow, appeared at Aylesbury Crown Court via videolink last week and admitted 37 of 54 charges against him.

Lynch, 27, owns two children's day nurseries, one for children aged from three months to two years and another for two to fives.

The case was adjourned until January 2008.

The Quote Clinic & Showroom

Homesure Windows, do it again. Many potential customers are driven from the market place by high pressure sales reps outstaying their welcome in your home, offering you special offers/ discounts if you sign up there and then. This is not the Homesure way. In addition to the normal facility of sending one of our experienced consultants to your home we can now offer our new service, THE QUOTE CLINIC. This enables you to bring your window sizes and styles to us for free on the spot advice, design and quotations. This makes it easier for you to avoid the minefield of wasted evenings and high pressure sales techniques. Homesure has been established in Milton Keynes since 1991, with local offices and an installation depot installing quality UPVc windows and doors, which sets standards above those currently available. For all the right reasons isn't it time you found out why so many people are saying "It's nice to be HOMESURE." pop in for a coffee and a quote.

Bypass sees traffic rise

BOW Brickhill councillors are calling for a weight limit through the village after an increase in heavy traffic caused by a new bypass.

The parish council claims there has been a sudden leap in the volumes of traffic which appears to coincide with the opening of the new Leighton Buzzard/Stoke Hammond bypass.

Danesborough ward councillor, David Hopkins, has asked Milton Keynes Council to undertake a more thorough traffic census and to develop a traffic management plan for the village.

Bow Brickhill Parish Council wants a 7.5 tonne weight limit prohibiting HGV traffic through Station Road and, speed restrictions limiting all traffic to 20mph while passing the village school.

A spokesman for MK Council said it will be monitoring traffic flows to see if there is a problem and is developing a lorry management strategy. The council would be holding a consultation before considering whether to re-route heavy traffic passing through the village.

He added that a pedestrian crossing has already been put in place outside Bow Brickhill First School, in Station Road, and the council would be monitoring its success before considering a 20mph speed limit.

How to avoid vomiting bug

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

HEALTH experts are urging city residents to help prevent an outbreak of winter vomiting disease.

Described by Milton Keynes Primary Care Trust (MKPCT) as a 'highly contagious norovirus', the unpleasant stomach bug thrives in offices and schools during winter months.

As people spend more time inside, in centrally-heated or air-conditioned environments, the disease can spread quickly.

Sue Barber, senior infection prevention and control nurse at MKPCT, said: "The first signs of norovirus infection are usually a sudden onset of nausea, followed by projectile vomiting and watery diarrhoea.

"These may be accompanied by a mild fever, headaches, stomach cramps or aching limbs.

"If you or anyone you know has these symptoms our advice is to stay at home and rest while the symptoms persist and for around two days after they have stopped."

She urged sufferers to take time off school and work and stay away from public places such gyms, health clubs, swimming pools, shops, the hospital and nursing homes.

It is important to drink plenty of water to avoid dehydration.

Noroviruses can be spread through contact with an infected person, surfaces that are contaminated, or by consuming contaminated food or water.

TAKE PRECAUTIONS

Wash your hands frequently and thoroughly, especially after using the toilet and before preparing food.
Ensure that you wash raw fruit and vegetables before you prepare and eat them.
Regularly disinfect surfaces such as door and cupboard handles that are frequently touched by other people.
Use bleach-based cleaners to decontaminate toilet and bathroom areas.

Thatched roof lost in pub blaze

THE thatched roof of a pub collapsed after a fire in the early hours of Monday morning.

At its peak nearly 50 firefighters and officers fought the blaze at the Lone Tree pub, on the A421 in Thornborough.

The alarm was raised by passing motorists at about 3am.

What remained of the roof of the front part of the building collapsed on to the first floor and, the two end walls were left unstable.

Thames Valley Police had to close a stretch of the A421 but were able to reopen it at about 6am. Nobody was injured.

Woodhill prisoners learn about the Holocaust

PRISONERS at Woodhill have been learning about the Holocaust.

The Anne Frank Trust opened an exhibition at the prison yesterday.

The Trust works across the UK in schools, prisons and communities, drawing on the power of Anne's life and diary to challenge prejudice, reduce hatred and encourage people to foster positive attitudes, personal responsibility and respect for others.

The Trust's exhibition, Anne Frank: a History for Today, relates the history of the Holocaust to contemporary issues.

Prisoners and staff will be able to hear a moving first-hand account of life in a concentration camp from Dr Eva Schloss, a step-sister of Anne, who survived Auschwitz.

There will also be a creative writing workshop and debate on the boundaries of freedom

The exhibition will close on December 6.

Chris Watling from Eaglestone on the Lares Trail in Peru raising cash for Keech Cottage

Peak effort raises £3,300

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A GRANDMOTHER has trekked across Peru to raise money for a local children's hospice.

Chris Watling, 54, from Abbotsfield Road, Eaglestone, took part in a nine-day challenge to reach Machu Picchu, the lost city of the Incas, in September.

She raised over £3,300 for Keech Cottage Children's Hospice, which supports children with life-limiting conditions and their families.

Chris and her fellow travellers followed the Lares Trail, considered a more untouched experience compared to the more commonly known Inca Trail.

Chris said: "The toughest day was climbing our highest peak of around 4,400m."

"I cried when I got to the top, it was such a relief but also a fantastic sense of achievement and I knew at that point I deserved every penny of the sponsorship I had raised."

"It's been fantastic to raise so much for Keech Cottage and the families they support."

If you would like to take part in an overseas challenge for the hospice visit www.pasque.org/overseas, call 01582 497849 or e-mail events@pasque.org for an application pack.

Old people's flats to replace care home

A CARE home in Beanhill could be demolished and replaced with flats for older people.

Bracken House, in Wastel, may be replaced by a block of 11 supported living flats and four houses under new proposals.

Plans have been submitted by Aragon Housing Association, care providers The Freemantle Trust and social care commissioners Milton Keynes Council.

They claim the residential home, which has 18 residents, is old fashioned and unable meet modern standards.

The 25-year-old building was originally a hostel and for some time the council has been looking to provide brand new state-of-the-art facilities

David Moore, the council's head of commissioning, said: "Nowadays social care providers and housing associations are looking for people to live in settings that are as normal as possible and help them towards more independent living.

It's business as usual during centre revamp

Net result: Students from Shuttleworth College catch fish from Bletchley Leisure Centre pond

BLETCHLEY Leisure Centre will be open as usual despite the start of a multi-million pound revamp for the area.

The first phase of the project has involved emptying out the lakes, before the site can be set up properly, with the creation of a temporary car park and temporary access to the leisure centre.

The fish in the pond have been removed during high oxygen levels in the water, the least stressful time, and relocated to Emberton Park. It is one of the first phases in the project.

There has been some confusion as to the phasing of the works but council leisure director Paul Sanders said: "It's business as usual for Bletchley.

"There will, of course, be disruption as time goes on but we will manage this as best we can with a range of signage solutions and information.

"The leisure centre, Princes Way and car parking will be available throughout the development."

"There is going to be some inconvenience but in the end they will have a state-of-the-art leisure facility, a new multi-storey car park, new housing and a revamped and safer Princes Way.

"We would urge people not to be put off by the bulldozers and continue to enjoy the facilities of the leisure centre.

■ For detailed information on the courses available, please contact the Build a Better Bletchley team on (07825) 944324 or access http://www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/leisure-and-culture.

WORK SCHEDULE

UNTIL EARLY DECEMBER
Laying the 'ground-work' to drain the ponds
Start new footpath construction from Princes Way across the front of the pyramid and start work on new temporary car park. Existing car park and entrance remains unchanged.

FROM EARLY DECEMBER UNTIL EARLY JANUARY
Completion of footpath from Princes Way in front of the pyramid.
Work on new temporary car park continues, work begins on new leisure centre entrance, and footpath between ponds to entrance closed.
Car park remains open, access to leisure centre entrance will be via new footpath in front of the pyramid.

EARLY JANUARY ONWARDS
Close existing car park
Open new car park and entrance, with access from Western Road only.
New directional signs, as well as permanent hoarding along Princes Way to isolate the construction area where the major work is starting

Cyclone shelter worker missed storm by days

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

Disaster training: World Vision staff talk to villages about practical preparation such as burying food and resources, tying up boats, and evacuation

A WORLD Vision worker arrived home from Bangladesh just before the cyclone struck

Alex Whitney, 29, had been working on flood and cyclone protection since October.

Millions of people have been left without food and shelter following the tragedy on November 16.

So far around 3,000 have been confirmed dead.

Families have been left without enough food, water, or shelter, while an estimated million homes have been destroyed or damaged and around a million acres of cropland devastated.

World Vision builds two-storey flood and cyclone shelters at schools for locals to take refuge in during natural disasters.

Mr Whitney, who arrived home at the beginning of the month, was in Bangladesh to oversee the work.

He said: "People go to the schools to shelter themselves from the worst parts of storms.

"They are built solidly. They are two storey and the bottom is empty, they are about 20ft off the ground."

This year around 20,000 people have sought protection in shelters built by World Vision.

Mr Whitney, who works at Fox Milne, said: "This year most communities had about a day's warning before it hit.

"The death toll is a lot lower this year due to the protection available.

"In the past it has been a lot higher, in the hundreds of thousands.

"World Vision Bangladesh staff are on the ground distributing essential food and clothing. But in the coming months, we will be working with communities to get people back into work and habitable homes."

During his time in Bangladesh, the Wolverton resident met many people affected by previous floods.

Nirmal Moithra, 45, of Kalikabari village in the Mongla sub-district, sent his two children away to the storm shelter while he stayed back to guard his small home made of coconut trees, bamboo and a thatch of local material.

But he could only run to save his life when the strong winds that accompanied the cyclone blew down his home.

He said: "I need to put a roof over the head of my children. But I do not know how I am going to do this."

Last Thursday the Disasters Emergency Committee's 13 major aid agencies launched an appeal to help the affected communities.

Within five hours, £1 million had been raised.

The Disasters Emergency Committee Appeal will provide desperately needed relief to people suffering after one of the most ferocious cyclones to hit Bangladesh in decades.

Volunteer staff are treated to afternoon tea

MACMILLAN Cancer Support in Milton Keynes took the opportunity to say thank you to all their dedicated volunteers by inviting them to a pre-Christmas afternoon tea at Xpress at Holiday Inn on Friday.

The Buckinghamshire fundraising office based at Kiln Farm, Milton Keynes benefits from 33 regular volunteers who dedicate their time and energy to help improve the lives of people affected by cancer in Milton Keynes.

Fundraising manager Rebecca Staden said "This year our volunteers gave 1,082 hours of their time to support us locally and they really do make a huge difference to our fundraising. We wanted to take this opportunity to say a huge thank you to all our volunteers in the Milton Keynes area for all their support and hard work this year. We simply couldn't function without our volunteers as they are all integral members of our local Macmillan team."

There is something for everyone who wants to volunteer, tasks include helping at local events, taking part in street collections and coming into the office and helping with administrative tasks. Some volunteers are also ambassadors for the charity; they give talks and spread the Macmillan word within their local community.

Regular Macmillan volunteer John Riggs said: "Volunteering has become such an important part of my life, I feel I am making a real difference to people living with cancer and it's great to be part of such a fantastic team, of both volunteers and staff."

■ If you would like to volunteer for Macmillan telephone please give Julia a call on 01908 565963.

MUSIC REVIEWS

NO I IN THREESOME
Interpol

WELL, that's three good singles this year from Interpol, and if we're being honest here, you can't really ask for much more than that, now can you?

This one's a little slower-paced than either The Heinrich Maneuver or Mammoth, and in less capable hands this could've been a miserable slab of dirge, but instead it sounds like a band at the top of their game.

Everything's pitched just right, there's no melodramatics and it's all very restrained, but you know that if the band wanted to, they could quite easily step up the pace a few gears and what's more, they'd get away with it too. Lovely.

MAKE IT WIT CHU
Queens of the Stone Age

SOMEBODY really ought to pick this band up on their poor spelling skills (and while they're at it it'd be nice if someone asked Prince to stop using text-speak at the same time).

I'll tell you something though, I can scarcely believe that the same band that recorded Feel Good Hit Of The Summer is also responsible for this.

Imagine you're in a bar somewhere, and the air's thick with cigarette smoke so we're not in England, then. It's all dimly lit, the patrons are slowly working on achieving a blood to alcohol ratio of 1:1, and the most recent record to be added to the jukebox playlist is Centerfold by the J Geils Band when it was in the chart.

In the corner somewhere, there's a band playing a nice, relaxed chilled-out number and the ginger-topped singer is crooning away almost in a semi-comatose state, bless him.

There are pianos, drums and guitars, but it's all played in such a mellow fashion that half the patrons who are still capable of movement are tapping their fingers on the table in time to the music, even though they don't realise they're actually doing it.

Here's the strange thing though, I actually found myself really liking this song so I'm going to heartily recommend it.

DO IT YOURSELF
Uniting Nations

A RATHER ironic title given that the main sample was created by somebody else.

It's originally an old Gloria Gaynor song, which will come as something of a surprise to those people who think she did I Will Survive and nothing else – ever.

All these dance tracks that are largely based on samples from ancient singles tend to fall into one or two categories – they either sound like inspired reworkings or they sound like something hurriedly thrown together in about half an hour.

Take Eric Prydz for example. He gave Steve Winwood's Valerie and Pink Floyd's Another Brick In The Wall (Part 2) a brand new lease of life, while respecting the source material. This tune however, has none of that.

It sounds like a song that's been cut to shreds, glued back together and then had some drum loops chucked on top.

BABY WHEN THE LIGHT
david Guetta

STUPID title for a song. It sounds to me like Mr Guetta's ditched the formula his last two singles were settling into thank heavens. This is much better, it jigs about nicely, there's a female singer (told you he was ringing the changes) and it's the best thing he's released for some time.

SIMON DARNELL

AS his gang and legend begin to fragment, train-robber and outlaw Jesse James (Pitt) is a haunted man. He can feel his death approaching, but can he foresee that fringe gang-member Robert Ford (Affleck) will be the man to pull the trigger?

INFINITE JUSTICE (15)
Kevin Collins, Raza Jaffrey, Jennifer Calvert, Constantine Gregory

From Friday

AN American reporter is held hostage by Muslim fundamentalists in Karachi.

THE NINES
Ryan Reynolds, Hope Davis, Elle Fanning, Melissa McCarthy

From Friday

A TV actor (Ryan Reynolds) goes on a bender before crashing his car after smoking crack with a hooker. Under house arrest, he hears noises and sees hallucinations that suggest a haunting. However, the truth is much stranger.

THE MAGIC FLUTE
Joseph Kaiser, Amy Carson, Rene Pape, Lyubov Petrova

From Friday

A PRINCE battles evil forces to rescue a princess in Kenneth Branagh's take on Mozart's opera.

BEOWULF (12A)
Ray Winstone, Angelina Jolie, Brendan Gleeson, Anthony Hopkins, Robin Wright Penn, John Malkovich

Now Showing

SIXTH Century Denmark, and the domain of King Hrothgar (Hopkins) is under attack from a hideous demon named Grendel (Crispin Glover). The heroic Beowulf (Winstone), a geat warrior, arrives and vows to defeat Grendel. But if he manages that, there's Grendel's angry and seductive mother (Jolie) to contend with.

SPECIAL 3D showings of Beowulf until Thursday at 12.00, 2.45, 5.30, 8.15.

SLEUTH

Now Showing

YET another Hollywood remake of an already classic movie. Thriller writer Wyke (Caine), who also starred in the first film, invites in Lothario Milo (Law) and makes him a proposition - stop sleeping with the wife and in return get the winnings from an insurance scam. One slight catch: Milo has to fake a jewellery heist in Wyke's house. And so the game of double-cross begins...

AMERICAN GANGSTER (18)
Denzel Washington, Russell Crowe, Josh Brolin, Chiwetel Ejiofor, Carla Gugino, Common, TI, RZA, Ted Levine, John Ortiz, Yul Vazquez, Roger Bart

Now Showing

THE true story of Frank Lucas (Washington), a 70s Harlem crime lord who took on the Mafia by importing uncut heroin directly from Thailand, then selling it cheaper. Enter Richie Roberts (Crowe), the one clean cop in a sea of filthy fuzz, assigned to stem the drug flow.

MK THEATRE SPRING SEASON

BOOKINGS are now being taken for Milton Keynes Theatre's stunning spring season.

Famous names appearing next year include TV stars Neil Pearson, Nigel Havers, John Savident and Jeremy Edwards along with Indian superstar Harish Patel, homegrown star in the making Alfie Allen and theatrical legend Simon Callow.

Highlights include Matthew Bourne's Nutcracker! The National Theatre's Rafta, Rafta, a new musical based on the music of Take That - Never Forget, West End sensation Equus, Chekhov's passionate masterpiece Uncle Vanya and Alan Bennett's brilliantly witty Single Spies.

On the musical front Rodgers & Hammerstein's South Pacific (Feb 19-23) Half A Sixpence (Mar 10-15) starring Gary Wilmot and Zorro (April 8-12) will have you singing and tapping your feet in your seats.

For the children, the funniest family show of the moment LazyTown Live! (June 5-7) zooms into Milton Keynes.

Other one night shows include one of the country's most original comics Omid Djalili, ABBA tribute Bjorn Again, psychic medium Colin Fry and impressionist John Culshaw.

The new season curtain then rises on The Agatha Christie Theatre Company as they make a welcome return with Christie's own thrilling stage adaptation of the best selling novel of all time, And Then There Were None. Featuring an all star cast including Gerald Harper, Jeremy Edwards, Dennis Lill, Mark Wynter and Peter Byrne

XSCAPELIFE

Rosanna Smith of the Diamond Theatre School singing Christmas carols at the opening of Winter Wonderland

Win a Smart Car at Xscape

A MAGICAL Winter Wonderland opened at Xscape on Friday, with an appearance from former Coronation Street star Bradley Walsh.

The fun started at 7pm when Bradley, starring in Aladdin at Milton Keynes Theatre, helped launch the festive fun by switching on the Christmas lights.

There was a Christmas choir, snowmen and ice queens along with Santa's grotto.

As part of the festivities Xscape is giving you the chance to win a Smart Car.

Just visit the Winter Wonderland experience at Xscape, where you will see the brand new top-of-the-range Smart Car on display next to Santa's grotto.

While the kids are visiting Santa and his friends for free, you can take the opportunity to fill in your details on a snowflake, and drop it in the box.

Then every weekday from December 3 , Horizon Radio will be making a call.

Every hour, someone who has entered their name and address into the box will be called live on air.

Make sure you've got your wits about you, as you'll have to pick up the phone and shout BAUBLES!

If you do you're through to the live final, which takes place on Saturday, December 22, when you'll have to test your skills and you could be driving the car home.

What an amazing Christmas present for a loved one, or maybe just for yourself.

Terms and conditions apply, see www.xscape.co.uk for full details

MARKS & SPENCER GASTROPUB RANGE

2 Sunset Walk, Saxon Gate East and Winchester Circle, Kingston Centre
01908 662323
Review by MK News newsroom

MARKS & Spencer's new Gastropub dishes centre on traditional British flavours and Italian influenced recipes which are at the heart of gastro pub menus up and down the country.

With dishes such as warming Game Pie (£6.99) with venison and pheasant in rich red wine and bacon gravy or Scallop and Smoked Bacon Risotto (£7.99) the range offers warming meals to comfort you during the winter months.

Most need to be oven cooked, but some can be warmed up in the microwave.

The range offers an interesting range of starters to heat up your taste buds ready for the main course.

Particular favourites with the news team were the Two Welsh Goat's Cheese & Caramelised Onion Tarts (£3.99). The goat's cheese was flavoursome with perfectly crunchy pastry baskets and the cherry tomato and balsamic vinegar chutney was a great accompaniment.

The Stornoway Langoustine Gratin (£4.99) in a rich tomato and bacon sauce, topped with parmesan crumb were also a hit and, the Chorizo Risotto (£3.99) was a rich cheesy number with a generous helping of Chorizo sausage, roasted red onions, creamy arborio rice and parmigiano reggiano.

But whilst the range seems to have mastered the starters the mains were not quite so popular.

The Outdoor Bred Lincolnshire Sausage Toad in the Hole (£3.99) had very herby sausages could have benefited from more onion gravy.

The Oakham Chicken Chasseur (£4.99) - roasted Oakham chicken thighs and drumsticks served with cherry tomatoes, flat cap mushrooms and roasted baby onions in a classic chasseur.

The Oakham Chicken, Mushroom and Bacon Pie (£5.99) went down well, with excellent crispy puff pastry and a generous amount of chicken complemented with a lovely creamy sauce.

And we couldn't fault the Stornoway Wholetail Breaded Scampi (£6.99) with deliciously chunky chips and cool and fresh tartare sauce.

The range also offers some side dishes, including Braised Lentils and Cabbage (£2.49) with shallots and bacon.

This is easy peasy cooking at its best, with relatively good quality ready-made meals you can pop in the oven and not feel too embarrassed presenting to your family at the dinner table.

How much I miss you nobody knows.

I think of you in silence,
I often speak your name,
But all I have are memories,
And photos in a frame.

No one knows my sorrow,
No one sees me weep,
But the love I have for you,
Is in my heart to keep.

If tears could build a stairway,
And memories a lane,
We'd walk right up to Heaven,
And bring you home again.

Rest in Peace, Sweetheart.

Love Harry, Elaine, Lloyd, Debra & Brett.

Energy Eric set to save planet

FORGET Superman, Spiderman and Batman, the latest planet-protecting superheroes are Energy Eric, Energy Eleanor and Eco Eddie – winning inventions of primary school children who created characters and devised their energy saving super powers for a regional competition.

Hundreds of year six children at primary schools in Bedfordshire, Buckinghamshire and Northamptonshire took part in a competition organised by Milton Keynes-based energy solutions company IMServ, which aimed to raise awareness of energy usage within schools.

The prizegiving ceremony was held at Gulliver's Eco Park in Milton Keynes on November 15 where the winning children were presented with prizes by the mayor of Milton Keynes, Cllr Mike Barry and chief executive of the Milton Keynes Energy Agency, Brad Hook.

Charlie Hayes-Newington from Aylesbury came first with his brainchild Energy Eric, winning a family ticket to Gulliver's Eco Park in Newlands.

Catriona Cayley and James Ying Yi-Mitchell from Aylesbury and Rugby respectively, were runners up and were presented with gravity-defying 'Moon Shoes'.

Lucy Fitzgerald from IMServ said: "We ran the competition to help raise awareness of energy usage within schools.

By helping to reduce carbon emissions now, we can help create a better world for ourselves and our future generations. We were delighted that there was so much interest in the competition from local schools and would like to congratulate Charlie, Catriona and James for their winning entries."

MK mayor and mayoress Mike and Cheryl Barry with Lucy Fitzgerald the winning children and Gully Mouse

MK jobs £2,357 below national average

THE average salary for a job advertised in Milton Keynes over the last six months was £29,315.

And that was £2,357 less than the average UK salary of £31,672.

These are the results of the latest Monthly Salary Index published by jobs search engine AllTheTopBananas.com.

It analysed 6,174 jobs advertised in Milton Keynes between May and October this year to get the figure.

In total, it looked at 821,058 jobs across the UK. Nationally, the average advertised salary has gone up £382 since last month's salary index.

The website's MD Dave Martin said: "The index is a fascinating way to see how your salary compares against the advertised average, both in Milton Keynes and throughout the UK.

"Job hunters can use it as a tool to assess salary offers when looking for new work.

"While the salary index doesn't take into account variables such as experience in a role or quirks of specific industries, it can be a useful way to set realistic salary expectations in an area."

AllTheTopBananas.com collects and displays jobs from hundreds of partner websites across the UK. It has 228,257 jobs currently active – more than one in three of all UK vacancies.

The Monthly Salary Index is at www.AllTheTopBananas.com/salary

Dawn the pick of logistics pic takers

MILTON Keynes resident Dawn Ash-Kashani has been named as a runner-up in a national Photography Challenge launched by Skills for Logistics, the Sector Skills Council for the freight logistics industries.

The competition, which ran over the summer, aimed to inspire interesting and perceptive views of logistics in action.

Mrs Ash-Kashani, of Armstrong Close, Crownhill, was a runner up with her entry in the Logistics in Action category with her colourful picture of warehouse operatives in action using a 'pick by voice' system.

Lucinda Ward, marketing and research director at Skills for Logistics and one of the judges says: "The competition was very close, we were so impressed with the high standard of entrants, although in the end Dawn's picture best demonstrated the category requirements."

"For too long the logistics industry has suffered from image problems, often associated with low skilled, dead-end jobs.

"Nothing could be further than the truth today and this competition has helped to present the dynamic world of modern logistics to the public at large."

Mrs Ash-Kashani, an IT office manager at Kuehne and Nagel says: "I'm stunned. I never expected to be among the winners.

"It was good fun taking the pictures and I also learned a lot from actually seeing our warehouse guys in action they move so fast.

"Everyone should have the chance to visit a warehouse and see what goes on."

Motor Transport magazine co-sponsored the competition together with Skills for Logistics and Isotrak, leading UK providers of real-time vehicle tracking systems and logistics management consultancy.

Mrs Ash-Kashani's prize, supplied by Isotrak, is a state-of-the-art inkjet photo printer.

There were two other runners up who also win an inkjet photo printer: Mark Looby from Potton, Bedfordshire, working for Ocado, and John Miles from Manchester, working for Faber Maunsell.

The competition was won by Nigel Parry from Kenilworth, Warwickshire.

Five-minute moan about workmates

MILLIONS of workers get stressed out because of 'infuriating' behaviour by some of their colleagues according to a new report.

A list of complaints compiled by the Britannia Building Society included using other people's possessions, pulling sickies, talking loudly and leaving desks in a mess.

A survey of 2,100 workers also found that three in five accused colleagues of claiming the credit for work someone else had done.

The study suggested that employees spent five minutes a day moaning about the 'anti-social behaviour' of people at work.

Tim Franklin of Britannia said: "It's concerning to see that so many of us are affected by the unfair behaviour of people at work.

"Considering we spend a large percentage of our time at work it's worrying that nearly all of us feel stressed and annoyed by the people we work with.

"Anti-social behaviour is not only affecting the health of the nation but our economy too.

Sales Support Associate
£18,000 - £24,000 • Milton Keynes

Here's an excellent chance for a bright, articulate professional to play a pivotal role at Mouchel Business Services Ltd. Formerly HBS, we specialise in helping public sector organisations improve their efficiency and effectiveness. If you're interested in this sector, you won't find a better place to enhance your skills and further your career.

You'll be part of our sales support team – a group that's primarily responsible for the administration, presentation and delivery of new business bids. As well as identifying fresh opportunities, it'll be your job to write and gather information for bids. You'll also update sales databases and produce reports using Excel.

To succeed, you'll need to be a strong communicator with excellent attention to detail and proven writing skills. You'll also be IT literate with a sound knowledge of Microsoft Office and the Internet. While previous bid experience would be beneficial, it's not essential as full training will be provided.

To find out more, please contact Ivy Garcia-Packwood or Naomi Cook on 01908 247332. To apply, please send CVs into sales.support@hbs.uk.com.

Part of the BMI Healthcare Group, The Manor Hospital is a highly successful 23-bed acute care surgical hospital with an enviable reputation for delivering high standards of nursing care. We are committed to multi-skilling and cross-training our team in all areas of surgery, anaesthetics and recovery.
We have vacancies for the following:

Scrub Nurse
This full time position requires a least 2 years scrub experience, to join our busy, friendly team in Theatre.

Theatre Receptionist
This part-time position is for 20 hours per week in our busy operating theatre, taking calls and organising theatre's sister's diary. Duties will include ordering of consumables and loan instruments ensuring that all areas in theatre are adequately stocked, liaising with loan companies, as well as coordination of sterile services deliveries.

Healthcare Assistant - Theatre
This position is part time, working 20 hours per week, assisting trained staff in the care of patients whilst in theatre. You will ensure equipment is checked and in working order, participating in all areas of theatre and recovery, including deliveries of sterile services.

Finance/Business Office Assistant
This is a full time position, working in our friendly and lively business office. We seek a well organised and confident administrator who has credit control and purchase ledger experience to join our team. The role will cover a variety of accounts functions, so good all round skills will be beneficial, IT skills and MS office experience are essential.

Materials Officer
This position will be for 30 hours a week and will manage purchase orders, stock control and hospital stores, and is integral to the efficient operation of the hospital. ## The place to excel

At Milton Keynes, we're supporting the growth of our vibrant city while continuing to deliver excellent services. It's an exciting place to be and we're keen to get the balance right.

Independent Chair - Housing Services Forum

We have completed a wide ranging review of how we carry out resident involvement in the borough. Our overall aims are to ensure that we have the right person in the right home and that we change communities for the better. With this in mind we want to increase the number of tenants and residents who get involved in shaping the housing service and make sure everyone has the opportunity to have a say in a way that best suits them.

As chair of our new Forum you will play a key role in shaping the development of resident involvement during the first 12 months of our new approach.

Using your knowledge of Milton Keynes and the issues facing the borough and your awareness of equalities and diversity, you will lead all meetings of our new Housing Services Forum. Calm yet assertive under pressure, you will ensure that the discussion is controlled, focused, and within time constraints while including all relevant issues. You will ensure that everyone has the opportunity to take part in the discussions.

You'll have a personal reputation for integrity together with experience of managing large meetings on emotive issues..
You should not be a serving councillor or officer.

The position is unpaid and requires chairing 4 evening meetings a year. There will be other time commitments e.g. to attend briefings, read reports etc.

For an informal and confidential discussion please contact Simon Aslett, Tenant Participation Manager, on 01908 253078.

To apply online visit: www.theplacetobe.info

Cambridgeshire and Peterborough Tourism Officer

£25,000 - £30,000 per annum
Full-time, three year fixed-term position

Are you the enthusiastic and committed professional to help us develop Cambridgeshire and Peterborough's Tourism Sector?

We are looking for someone of graduate calibre with a strong track record in tourism destination management and marketing, and in successfully co-ordinating programmes across partner organisations. You will need to demonstrate excellent project management, interpersonal and communication skills, possess strong self-motivation, well developed influencing and negotiation skills, and you will also require the necessary drive and commitment to meet objectives and achieve results.

The post has been initiated through a partnership of the Greater Cambridge Partnership (GCP) and Cambridgeshire District, Unitary and County Councils, with the funding support of the East of England Development Agency (EEDA). You will co-ordinate the implementation of key priorities in the Greater Cambridge and Peterborough Tourism Strategy and Action Plan and maintain the county tourism website and destination management system.

Based at the District Council Offices in Huntingdonshire, you will support partners across the county in co-ordinating and delivering projects and developing strategic alliances for the benefit of Peterborough and Cambridgeshire based businesses. Over time, you will help build the brand, placement and profile of the county internationally.

For an informal discussion regarding this post, please contact Corrine Garbett on 01480 388459.

Huntingdonshire District Council offers a wide range of benefits including flexible working, excellent opportunities for training and development and a Local Government Pension Scheme (LGPS) which provides high quality pension benefits based on final pay.

Bedfordshire and Luton NHS
Mental Health and Social Care Partnership NHS Trust

Working towards becoming a Wave 8 Foundation NHS Trust, this is an exciting time to join us. We are a county-wide NHS Trust managing Mental Health and Learning Disabilities services with our local partners.

Mental Health Services for Older People aims to ensure that older adults remain as independent as possible and that care and treatment to meet their mental health needs is provided as close to home as possible. Our specialist in-patient services and community teams work closely with older adults' social care services, voluntary agencies, advocacy groups and families to help people remain in their own home for as long as they want to. Our future plans are to develop services for younger people with dementia and challenging behaviour services for older people.

The other MINI

THE MINI Clubman comes in three engine variants: Cooper D, Cooper and Cooper S.

It offers flexible use of space, easier access through innovative door concepts, more space for rear passengers and high levels of safety and customisation options, all without compromising the MINI's revered driving dynamics.

The new MINI Clubman is 24cm longer than the Hatch, with 8cm more legroom for rear passengers and the opportunity for MINI to enter the market with five seats. Boot capacity has increased and access to this extra space has been made easier via the split rear doors and innovative Clubdoor.

Modern high-performance engines feature new improvements to optimise fuel economy and emission management. Auto Start-Stop, Brake Energy Regeneration and a Gearshift Point Indicator are standard on all variants.

The new Auto Start-Stop function serves to effectively reduce fuel consumption and emissions while the car is standing still.

The three versions of the MINI Clubman are identical to the MINI hatch design and body structure up to the B-pillar, retaining the familiar hexagonal radiator grille and large, round headlights.

There are 12 body colours to choose from, creating 36 combinations of exterior paintwork. The C-pillars and rear bumper of the MINI Clubman are painted either Silver or Black. The roof can be ordered in Silver, Black or Body Colour.

There are four interior colours and a wide range of trim options available to personalise the interior.

The MINI Cooper D Clubman, with its diesel engine makes it one of the most environmentally friendly cars available.

The MINI Cooper Clubman and the MINI Cooper D Clubman come as standard on 15-inch alloy rims, while the MINI Cooper S Clubman features 16-inch wheels with runflat tyres.

Six airbags are standard consisting of front, side and curtain head airbags for the driver and front passenger.

The new generation of the MINI is the world's only compact premium car to combine fascinating design with incomparably agile driving characteristics, quality and safety of the highest level, a wide range of customisation options, and truly outstanding efficiency. The new MINI Clubman offers further evidence of this leadership.

For more information and to arrange a testdrive, please contact Stratstone MINI Milton Keynes on 01908 588688.

MINI CHERISHED. 100% APPROVED USED MINIS.

Conditions of Advertising LSN Media (the publisher)

GENERAL
1. The publisher reserves the right to omit or suspend any advertisement even though accepted and paid for and to make any alterations necessary to maintain standards of the newspaper. The publisher also declines responsibility for the omission of a single advertisement or one or more of a series of advertisements from any cause whatsoever, nor do they accept liability for any loss or damage caused by an error or inaccuracy in the printing of an advertisement. (Advertisers are advised to check their advertisement after the insertion). No re-insertions refund or adjustment will be made where an error, mis-print or omission does not materially detract from the advertisement. The Publisher may at its sole discretion re-insert the whole or part of the advertisement with corrections or refund part or the whole value of the advertisement.
2. The publisher reserves the right to decline any advertisement without giving an explanation or which they deem the content unsuitable for publication, whether an order has been accepted or not. The publisher will not accept orders for advertisements which it deems offensive or defamatory or which infringe the Trades Description Act 1968 and The British Code of Advertising Standards Authority on such matters.
3. An order for advertising services placed by an advertiser or an advertising agency on behalf of an advertiser constitutes an assurance that necessary authorisation or permission has been granted in respect of the use of the advertisement itself, pictorial representation of a living person, references made and words attributed to a living person and text which may be the subject of copyright protection.
4. Printed conditions on advertisement orders will not be recognised as binding unless expressly accepted in writing by the publishers.
5. Advertising rates involving a series, volume or prepayment discount are expressly for the use of the advertiser concerned and are not to divulged to a third party.
6. All artwork designed by the LSN Studio remains the property of LSN Media. Where artwork services are provided, it is on the understanding that it is for the sole use in any of the LSN Media publications unless prior agreement is sought, any unauthorised reproduction will result in a charge being levied on the publisher concerned.
7. Proofs of advertisements are provided upon request but cannot be guaranteed. Where a proof is supplied, the onus is on the recipient to check that all information is correct and to provide the publisher with any neccesary alterations or amendments before the expiration of the deadline. The publisher will not accept responsibility for errors in any advertisement where a proof is supplied and subsequently authorised for publication.
8. Although every effort will be made to meet advertisers requirements, specified positions cannot be guaranteed within the newspaper.
9. All advertisements which carry a premium telephone number must comply with the Code of Practice of The Independent Committee for the supervision of Standards of Telephone Information Services (CSTIS).
10. The advertiser (or his advertising agency) shall indemnify the publisher in respect of all costs, damages or any other charges as the result of legal action or the threat of legal action arising from the publisher of a single advertisement for a series of advertisements, published in accordance with copy instructions supplied to the publisher in pursuance of the advertiser or his advertising agency's order.
11. If an advertisement does not appear due to copy or artwork being supplied after the agreed deadline, the space will be payable in full at the published rates.
12. A request to insert an advertisement assumes acceptance of our Terms & Conditions of Advertising.

DISTRIBUTION
1. Unless otherwise stated, distribution will normally take place within the specified publication to the individual addresses which usually receive the publication within the area and on the date scheduled. This does not necessarily imply 100% delivery to all addresses within the area.
2. The publisher shall not be liable for total or partial non delivery of any publication in which an advertisement is scheduled to appear and no reinsertion, refund or adjustment will be made to the advertiser.

BOX NUMBERS
While every endeavour will be made to forward replies to box numbers to the advertiser as soon as possible, no liability will be accepted by the publisher in respect of any loss, damage or delay in forwarding such replies.

CANCELLATION
1. Cancellation of advertisements must be advised 24 hours prior to the booking deadline. If the publisher is unable to resell the space he reserves the right to charge for any loss of revenue incurred.
2. If any advertiser in receipt of a series, volume or prepayment discount cancels before fulfilling the terms of the agreed order, the publisher reserves the right to make a surcharge up to the full published rates for the type of advertisement.
3. Queries concerning cancelled advertisements must be accompanied by the stop number given at the time of cancellation.

PAYMENT
1. Credit facilities are at the discretion of the publisher, but such facilities are limited to strict terms of 30 days. Late payment of account may lead to suspension of account facilities. Any discount which the publisher may have agreed with the advertiser may be forfeit should the advertiser fail to meet the agreed credit terms.
2. Prepaid accounts must be settled by no later than the two days prior to publication. The publisher reserves the right to suspend any advertisement where payment has not been received.
3. Dishonoured cheques will incur a £20 administration fee. All rates are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time of any advertisement is booked to appear. Recognised advertising agency is 10%

PREVIEWS

DAGENHAM & REDBRIDGE
League Two
Tuesday, December 4. KO 7.45pm
Victoria Road

THE Dons travel to the new boys of the league for a late-night kick-off as they begin a hectic month of Christmas fixtures.

With it being Dagenham's first season in the Football League they have never played the Dons before, although the Dons do have the advantage of sitting at the top of the league while their guests are fourth from bottom.

Daggers' keeper Tony Roberts is another unlikely threat in front of goal. The 38-year-old is the only goal-keeper ever to have scored a goal in an FA Cup tie.

It will be an important game for both sides as Dagenham look to turn their run of eight league games without a win around and the Dons will also be looking to bounce back from their defeat at the hands of Chesterfield.

But the Daggers will have to play Kidderminster Harriers in the second round of the FA Cup this weekend while the Dons get the chance to put their feet up.

Danny Swailes, who has been at the heart of the Dons' defence since joining in August, will miss the trip as he serves a one match ban for picking up his fifth caution against Chesterfield.

The Daggers will also be without one of their players as Solomon Taiwo sits out his third match following the red card he received in his sides 4-1 drubbing to Bradford.

VIEW FROM THE MOOCAMP

MK Dons face a tough battle to keep hold of their Berks and Buck Cup as they begin their defence at home to Maidenhead United.

The tie, which takes place at stadiummk on Tuesday, December 11, will be a repeat of last year's final at Adams Park where the Dons claimed the trophy with a 2-0 win.

Kick-off is at 7.45pm.

WINGER Mustapha Carayol has extended his loan with Crawley Town for an extra month.

The 18-year-old made a dream start at the Reds, scoring in their FA Cup fourth qualifying round clash against Aldershot.

Carayol had been due to link back up with the Dons in the coming weeks but will stay with Steve Evans' side until December, 23.

MK Dons are opening the next block of their Elite Development programmes.

More than 170 boys have already received professional football training on a weekly basis at venues in MK following the programme's launch in September.

The course provides boys playing in the age group of under-9s and under-14s a stepping stone to the MK Dons Academy.

There is also specialised goalkeeping training at one of the venues.

The training starts the week commencing Monday, December 3 for ten weeks.

For more information you can contact Chris McGuane on 01908 622888 or email chris.mcguane@mkdons.com.

MK DONS v CHESTERFIELD SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 24

Aaron Wilbraham and Dean Lewington get to grips with Felix Bastians

Inspired Spireites spoil Dons' day

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

JAMIE Ward's second-half strike ensured Chesterfield left stadiummk with three points and cut MK Dons' lead at the top of the table to two points.

A below-par 90 minutes from Dons' key players allowed the Spireites to take advantage and play the most attacking football of any visiting side this season.

The Dons had opened the scoring nine minutes in before Felix Bastians levelled and the Spireites stepped up a gear.

It was the same Dons side that beat Chester City but the two performances were miles apart, with the second-half in particular their downfall.

They showed the left-hand side would be pivotal to their success in the match with Lloyd Dyer and Jemal Johnson linking up in the early minutes with a smart one-two which left defender Gregor Robertson scooping the ball away a yard from his own goal line.

Chesterfield's deadly striker Jack Lester thought he had added to his impressive goal tally when he hit the outside of the net from close range and it was from the resulting goal kick that allowed the Dons to take the lead as Wright showed some clinical finishing for his fifth goal this season.

Aaron Wilbraham played in Dyer who then squared it into the box for Wright to simply tap home from eight-yards.

The Spireites had the perfect response in the 32nd minute following some lively play.

A cross in from the right evaded everyone in the box, including Drissa Diallo, which Felix Bastians pounced on and sent beyond Willy Gueret into the top corner.

Keith Andrews turns in premature celebration in injury time

It was a goal that inspired Lee Richardson's side and kept them in the Dons half but they could not add to the score line.

At the other end the Dons continued to have chances with Keith Andrews hitting the roof of the net and Alan Navarro having a low drive palmed away by Barry Roche in goal.

Good work at the restart saw the Spireites take the lead when Andrews gave away possession in the middle of the park allowing Jamie Ward to get on the end of a terrific through ball, sneak passed the Dons back line and fire in Chesterfield's second.

Ward could have added further to his sides advantage five minutes later when he appeared to have the better of Gueret yet his strike went wide.

Lewington's free kick left Roche scrambling to his line and before the Spireites could fully clear the left-back had chance to whip the ball back into the box only for Sean O'Hanlon's header to be saved comfortably.

The Dons looked desperate to get back into it and when Lester was stretchered off they could have been forgiven for thinking Chesterfield's attack would be halted.

But Ward and Adam Rooney then lead their forward movement and looked every bit as dangerous.

Deep in injury time, it was a goal ruled out from Andrews that left Dons fans disappointed.

Roche had parried Swailes' header away which Andrews pounced on yet, it was his outstretched hand that put the ball into the net.

And while the home crowd were celebrating referee Phil Joslin cancelled the leveller to scupper their hopes of a point.

BBL Cup win boosts Lions

EVERTON TIGERS 67
Robertson 17, Aliu 13, Davis 12
MK LIONS 64
New 1, Brown/Williams 11

LONDON CAPITAL 73
Van Stein 26, Williams 15, Miller 11
MK LIONS 78
Heizer 19, New 17, Williams 13

A SUPERB win in the BBL Cup quarter-final over London Capital helped MK Lions bounce back from their fifth league defeat.

On Friday nothing went to plan for the Lions, arriving late after getting stuck in traffic, they were out of sorts and quickly trailing 13-9 to the Everton Tigers. Mike New hit back five points and a lay-up from Tony Windless saw the Lions take a one point lead before a late Tigers score saw them edge ahead 17-16 at the end of the first quarter.

The lead exchanged hands several times in the second quarter with Yorick Williams hitting a free throw and a three pointer before the home side went on a 9-2 run.

David Aliu hit six points which were sandwiched between Liam Cort and Kevin Griffin's scores, yet once again the Tigers had the lead at half-time.

The Lions paid a high price for several missed shots as they continued to chase the game despite Griffin and Brown, the only Lions scorers in the third, posting the important points to keep them within touching distance.

In the closing stages, a Windless three-pointer to tied the scores at 61-61 only for Tony Robertson to then bag a lay-up for the Tigers.

But Williams netted another three-pointer for the Lions to give them a 63-64 lead with two minutes remaining.

The Tigers continued the pressure and two baskets from Tony Miller sealed the game 20 seconds from time.

On Sunday the Lions bagged a place in the BBL Cup semi-final where they will meet Guildford Heat.

It was the Lions who started the stronger and a 10-2 run in the opening period gave them an early 10-16 lead. However, London Capital fought back with a 9-0 start to the second quarter saw them take a 23-20 and they lead a four-point advantage over their visitors to lead 35-31 at the half.

The second half saw the Lions explode out of the blocks, and a 12-4 start to the third period saw them re-take the lead at 39-43.

Capital's Harvey van Stein scored the final eight points to give the home side a slender one-point advantage.

The Lions broke the game open as they hit nine of the first eleven points of the final period to take the score out to 54-60. Capital clawed their way back and got to within four points at 68-72 with less than one minute remaining, but the Lions ran out eventual winners.

■ The Lions now have a week off before they host London Capital at home on Wednesday, December 5. Tip-off is at 7.30pm.

Square deal for club

WOLVERTON Town Cricket Club have been handed a huge boost ahead of next season.

They have been awarded a £27,214 grant from the Government's £9.4m Community Club Development Programme.

The Wolverton club won the cash because of the strength of their junior cricket development programme.

Chairman, Roger Garrini, said: "We were all delighted when we were awarded the grant because our priority need was to upgrade the square.

"The grant enabled us to do the work over a period of two seasons and it has been an extremely successful project.

"Our pitches have improved considerably providing good pace and even bounce and this will help us to maintain and improve playing standards.

"Good safe pitches are also important in the development of young cricket."

In order to access funding, clubs have to have an ECB-approved Development Plan and projects must match the ECB's desire to leave a lasting legacy at the club and will also confirm to the Government's agenda to increase the numbers of five to sixteen year olds participating in cricket at the club.

Dan Croft celebrates Mikko Skinnari's third goal against Sheffield Scimitars

Mixed bag as Lightning lose – then blast in ten

TWO different performances for MK Lightning at the weekend saw them pick up two points from the weekend.

Lightning slipped to their fourth home defeat of the season when Sheffield Scimitars took advantage of a poor display from MK.

They recovered from the result to convincingly beat Wightlink Raiders 5-10 on Sunday, but once again their games were marred by more injuries they have sustained.

Both Ross Bowers (wrist) and Nick Poole (hamstring) are expected to be back in action soon, however they are doubts for this weekend.

Player-coach Poole described the results as a 'mixed bag' blaming 'sloppy play and a terrible second period' for gifting Sheffield the win.

And it was a bad 20 minutes that cost Lightning the match, after taking the lead a minute in through Poole, they then began to take their foot off the pedal and were 2-1 down at the end of the first period following goals from Stephen Wallace and Robert Dowd.

Gary Clarke just misses out

The wheels then fell off in spectacular fashion as Sheffield netted three goals in three minutes to pull away from Lightning.

It was a rude awakening for MK, who were then forced to tighten their defensive line, and prevent the side from leaking any more goals.

In the final period Lightning did manage to grab two goals of their own back through Toni Alasaarela and Mikko Skinniari.

Second from bottom Wightlink felt the full backlash of the poor 60 minutes the day before as Lightning smashed ten goals passed them to claim their second win over the Isle of Wight side. A relatively calm first period saw Lightning take a 2-1 lead courtesy of Gary Clarke and Skinnari.

But, it was a fast paced second period that had spectators on the edge of the seat, Pool and Alaasarela had given Lightning a 4-1 advantage until Nicky Watt pulled two back.

Skinnari then slotted in his second of the evening before Jason Coles brought the score to 5-4 in Lightning's favour.

MK killed of the game in the final period, firing home five goals, with Clarke and Alaasarela sealing hat-tricks before Coles claimed a late consolation.

■ LIGHTNING host Bracknell on Saturday, face-off is at 7pm before they travel to Chelmsford on Sunday for the 6.30pm face-off.

LOCAL RUGBY ROUND-UP

OLNEY'S unbeaten run in the Southern Counties north came to an end when they crashed to a 21-11 defeat at the hands of Beaconsfield.

Captain David Smith got the scores rolling for Olney striking two successful penalty kicks to gift his side the lead.

But from there on the game became disjointed and Olney slipped back which allowed Beaconsfield in with two soft converted tried to take the score to 14-6.

Luckily Smith was on form and skipped through midfield, passing his opposite number in the process, to cross the line and pull Olney back within three points at half-time.

Yet a poor second-half performance from both sides kept the scores the same for a long period until Beaconsfield finally broke through with the final try of the afternoon to claim the win.

Despite the defeat Olney remain three points clear at the top of the table.

MK put in an impressive performance to hold second in the table, Wallingford, to a 12-12 draw.

In truth MK could have and should have won the game had it not been for their ill discipline which allowed Wallingford to pull even.

Wallingford were literally handed their first three points when MK were penalised for using hands in the ruck, and they did not post a score until five minutes before the interval when flaker Shaun White went over for his second try this season.

But MK fell behind again when Wallingford added penalties either side of the interval and things got worse before they got better for MK as scrum-half Bretherton was sent to the sin-bin before Dan Walker suffered a broken hand.

The two sides exchanged penalties before Richard Hill eventually crossed the line for MK and the resulting conversion tied the scores.

Bookies favourite: Dons boss Paul Ince with assistant Ray Mathias

Will he, won't he? – fans fear Ince is in for Derby job

BY SIMONE CORGAN

'Hottest young manager in English football' has taken the Dons to the top of the table and seen them lose just four of their 17 league fixtures

FANS are still anxiously waiting for news on Paul Ince's future as MK Dons manager.

Ince has been tipped as a leading contender to take over at Derby County.

The position with the Rams became vacant on Monday morning when Billy Davies left the club by mutual consent.

Since Davies' departure the 40-year-old Dons boss has become the bookies favourite for the job.

But as we went to press last night both Ince and chairman Pete Winkelman were making no further comment on the situation, increasing speculation that the ex-England star may be on his way.

An initial statement released on Monday by the club described Ince as the 'hottest young manager in English football' adding that the rumours came as 'no surprise'.

However, a glimmer of hope appeared for the Dons yesterday, desperate to keep hold of their young manager.

It emerged that former Wigan boss, Paul Jewell, who left the club in the summer, was talking over a possible deal with Derby chairman and friend Adam Pearson.

Although Ince is currently in only his second managerial position, he made a name for himself after securing Macclesfield's league status last year. Since joining the Dons he has taken them to the top of the table with an attractive style of football which has seen them lose just four of their 17 league fixtures.

The manager's spot is a position that has plagued the Dons in recent years and could now face looking for their fifth manager in four years.

Everything is in place for the Dons to succeed, the brand new stadiummk, one of the best fan bases in the lowest of the Football League's with an average of 8,518 people turning up to watch the side, and a team packed full of quality players. So why does the MK seat seems to be a temporary one?

Both Stuart Murdoch and Danny Wilson were sent packing with their tails between their legs due to poor form and relegation respectively.

However, Martin Allen then took over, re-vamped the team with the players he thought would flourish, the tough talking boss put his own stamp on the club and it seemed to be working. That was until Allen failed to get the Dons promotion and went off to Leicester City leaving chairman Winkelman looking for a new man to take charge.

On June, 25 Ince was unveiled and within a few weeks Clive Platt and Izale McLead, the strike duo that had notched up 40 goals in a season, left for the Championship and Dons fans were a little unsure.

But five months into the new season the Dons are at the top of the table and looking a good bet to go up.

If the former England captain leaves for Pride Park then fans will desperately be urging the Dons to promote from within and current assistant boss Ray Mathias is thought to be the people's choice.

Mathias, often seen barking orders on the sidelines, spent three years in charge of Wigan in the late 80s when he guided them to the FA Cup quarter-finals in 1987.

Although, it would be a tough ask to keep Mathias at the Dons as he, alongside fitness coach Duncan Russell, left Macclesfield with Ince to come to Milton Keynes.
